Save what you can - Saving not dependent on how much you earn. All you need to do is to establish the intention to save something. for example, you decided to be setting aside UGX[savings_per_month] every month. Thats the best way to start. 2. Save first, spend later - When you get money, make sure you put something aside before you start spending. 3. Plan - Always have a plan for your money - how much do I earn, how much of it should i save, and how much should go to the needs of my family and myself. Question relevant when: $\${successful_call}=1$ and $\${topics_phase1}=6$

topic_indebtedness	INTERVIEWER SAY: Risks of indebtedness Today, I would like to share a few pointers on how to avoid the risk of indebtedness. We are just from the festive season in December and looking towards the opening of schools in February. Every one of us has many things that can easily make you fall in to debt at such times. FINCA has only 5 suggestions can be helpful <ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1. Only buy things that you can afford 2. Have some money for emergencies. This can be something like savings in your goal account. It is often better to save towards a goal than to borrow, because when you save, you don't have to pay interest, and you don't run the risk of being chased when failing to repay or have your reputation damaged. 3. Stick to a Savings Routine 4. Cut-out the wants, focus on the needs 5. Borrowing to repay an existing loan leads to a cycle of debt and where possible, should be avoided. c. If you ever do borrow, make sure you inquire and understand what you commit to, know your rights and obligations, and avoid committing to repay more than you can safely afford
